

A hand-drawn diagram of a cactus cross-section. The diagram shows a large, roughly rectangular shape representing the main body of the cactus. Inside this shape, there are several horizontal lines representing internal layers or structures. The lines are drawn with a pencil and are somewhat irregular. The text 'Cactus Bottom' is written vertically in the center of the diagram.

Cactus Bottom

A hand-drawn diagram of a cactus cross-section. The diagram shows a large, roughly rectangular shape representing the main body of the cactus. Inside this shape, there are several horizontal lines representing internal layers or structures. The lines are drawn with a pencil and are somewhat irregular. The text 'Cactus Top' is written vertically in the center of the diagram.

Cactus Top

Cactus Middle

